Class Officers

Senior Officers

The first of our many traditional senior class events was the Convocation ceremony during the first week of school. Then Pumpkin Parade followed in October, as the pinnacle of Parents Weekend. Our Senior Class-Faculty Reception was held in January, followed by the Senior Dinner Dance in February. A vigorous fundraising schedule was woven into the entire year, to cover costs of our festivities. A wonderful final year at R-MWC closed with a Relay Chain, and then Commencement on May 8, 1988.

Junior Officers

The first semester began with the Freshman-Junior Dinner to welcome our sister class. Next came the Junior Smorgasboard. A very special Ring Night followed with help of the Freshwomen. The high point of second semester was the Bury the Hatchet Party. The junior class fundraising campaign was very successful with several sales events.

Student Activity Board

The year 1987-88 proved to be a challenging one for the Student Activity Board. Struggling to cope with the change in the drinking age to 21 and new ABC regulations required innovative programming to keep students on campus, as well as to encourage men to attend R-MWC's events. To aid with these adjustments R-MWC welcomed Theresa Carroll, the Dean of Students' Director of Student Activities, with open arms.

It was a history making Fall in that it was the first time a dell party was not B.Y.O.B. Entrance to the dell was controlled, beer was sold to those of age only in the pines, and the skellar held a cookout in the dell. Though it was a battle at first, students eventually became used to the idea.

Bands of 1987-88 included AAE, Heinsohn & Day, The Producers, and N'est Pas, among others. The most notable event that included a semi-formal dinner, a moonlight dance in Bell Quad, a concert, and a dell party. The Fall also included a Bahamas mixer with a cruise for two given away, and the 'Real Men Want Class...Macon the Place to Find It' boxer shorts.

Spring brought with it a new SAB including seven new board members, movies in the student center, more interaction with neighboring colleges and an exciting Spring Formal.

The Skeller Board began its 1987-88 term with a leadership workshop in order to function more effectively as a group. We had a productive and enjoyable year. We improved our image with extended hours Friday and Saturday nights. Our biggest success was the new frozen yogurt machine added in November. As a result of student suggestions, we expanded our projects.

The R-M Young Democrats spent most of the year raising money for the state wide convention, which was held in Hampton, Virginia. We also enjoyed satisfaction in the re-election of former R-m trustee, Elliott Schewel to the Virginia State Legislature. Our club also hosted representatives for the presidential campaigns of Paul Simon and Micheal Dukakis.

Editors Note:

I have learned many things about publishing, about Randolph-Macon and about myself. There were many things that were done well and many things that could have been done differently. There have been three fellow students that have helped immeasurably. First, Mari Yamagiwa, her expertise as a photographer has made this book a more complete survey of R-M life. Secondly, Kirsten Renz, she worked hard to ensure students were represented in the best possible light. And finally, Mary Lou Horner who managed the finances. Their contribution has been greatly appreciated. I would like to thank the Dean of Students' Office for their direction, in particular Dean Sisson, Peggy Hoovler and Theresa Carroll. I would also like to thank my family. Being editor has been a lot of work, sometimes thankless, sometimes exhausting, but always very rewarding.
